++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Cloudy with some patchy drizzle, sunny spells developing.

Today:
A rather cloudy start with some patchy drizzle in the south and west. Brighter spells developing at times, especially in the north and northeast during the afternoon. Feeling mild. Maximum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Tonight:
Any clear spells gradually filling in as cloud builds from the north, the cloud thick enough for the odd spot of light drizzle by dawn, particularly across the mountains. Minimum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Saturday:
Saturday will be a cloudy day for many with further outbreaks of light rain and drizzle here and there. A band of more organised rain will push south overnight. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Turning colder. After a brief spell of rain early on Sunday, skies will brighten. Cold and showery on Monday. Becoming rather cloudy on Tuesday after a frosty start for some.
